Financial Policy

We are committed to providing you with the best possible medical care. If you have special needs; we are here to work with you. The following information is provided to avoid any misunderstanding or disagreement concerning your payment for professional services.

1. Our office accepts most insurance plans (Medicare, Medicaid. And commercial insurance). It is your responsibility to:
 - a. Bring your insurance card at every visit.
 - b. Be prepared to pay your copayment or minimal fee. Payment can be made by cash, check, or credit card.
 - c. You will be billed for medical care not covered under your insurance company.
2. If you have insurance in which we do not participate, our office is happy to file the claim upon request; however, you are expected to pay the minimal payment.
3. If you are unable to pay for necessary medical care, you may be eligible for financial assistance and receive a discount based on your household income and family size. It is the patient's responsibility to bring all required documentation before we can process a sliding fee application. Proper proof of income is the most current tax return, the two most recent pay stubs, most recent statement from social services, or a letter from the caregiver with explicit amounts of money that are given on a monthly basis. Sliding scale discounts will be based on the most recent Federal Poverty Index (FPI) guidelines. Patients lacking proper proof of income at the time of their visit must provide this documentation within two weeks. The parent, guardian of a minor is responsible for the minimal payment, if any, at the time of service.
4. If you have questions about your insurance or would like to set up a payment plan, we are happy to help.

HIPAA NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES
CLOVER FORK OUTPATIENT MEDICAL PROJECT, INC.

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY

This notice describes our privacy practices. All these entities, sites, and locations follow the terms of this notice. In addition these entities, sites and locations may share health information with each other for treatment, payment, or health care operations purposes described in this notice.

Our Pledge Regarding Health Information Privacy

We understand that health information about you and your health care is personal. We are committed to protecting health information about you. We create a record of the care and services you receive from us. We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements. This notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose health information about you. We also describe your rights to the health information we keep on you, and describe certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of your health information.

We are required by law to:

- Make sure that health information that identifies you is kept private:
- Give you notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to health information about you: and
- Follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect.

How We May Use and Disclose Health Information About You

The following categories describe different ways that we may use and disclose health information. For each category of uses or disclosures we will explain what we mean and try to give some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

For Treatment: We may use health information about you to provide you with health care treatment or services. We may disclose health information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, health students, or other personnel that are involved in taking care of you. They may work at our office, at the hospital, or at another doctor's office, lab, pharmacy, or other health care provider to whom we may refer you for consultation for other treatment purposes. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. In addition, the doctors may need to tell the dietitian at the hospital if you have diabetes so that they can arrange for the appropriate meals. We may also disclose health information about you to an entity assisting in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status, and location.

For Payment: We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive from us may be billed to and payment collected from you, an insurance company, or a third party. For example, we may need to file your health plan information about your office visit so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the visit. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

For Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose your health information for operations of our health care practice. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run our practice and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use health information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine health information about many patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, whether certain new treatments are effective, or to compare how we are doing with other and to see where we can make improvements. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of health information so that others may use it to study health care delivery without learning who our specific patients are.

To A Business Associate: Certain services are provided to us by third party administrators known as "business associates." For example, we may input information about your health care treatment into an electronic claims processing system maintained by CFOMP's business associate so your claim may be paid. We may disclose your health information to its business associate so they can perform its claims payment function. However, we will require its business associates, through contract, to appropriately safeguard your health information.

Treatment Alternatives: We may disclose your health information to tell you about possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Health-Related Benefits and Services: We may use and disclose your health information to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Individual Involved in Your Care or Payment of Your Care: We may disclose health information to a close friend or family member involved in or who helps pay for your health care. We may also advise a family member or close friend about your condition, your location (for example, that you are in the hospital), or death.

As Required by Law: We will disclose health information about you when required to do so by federal, state, or local law.

Special Use and Disclosure Situations

We may also use or disclose your health information under the following circumstances:

Lawsuits and Disputes: If you become involved in a lawsuit or other legal action, we may disclose your health information in response to a court or administrative order, a subpoena, warrant, discovery request, or other lawful due process by someone else involved in dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

- In response to a valid court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process:
- In reporting certain injuries, as required by law, gunshot wounds, burns, injuries to perpetrators of crime.
- To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness or missing person

Worker's Compensation: We may disclose your health information for worker's compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefit for work-related injuries or illness.

Military and Veterans: If you are or become a member of the U.S. armed forces, we may release health information about you as requires by military command authorities or the Department of Veterans Affairs as may be applicable. We may also release health information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authorities.

To Avert Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may use and disclose your health information when necessary to prevent serious threat to your health and safety, or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

Public Health Risks: We may disclose health information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include the following:

1. To prevent or control disease, injury, or disability.
2. To report births and deaths.
3. To report child abuse or neglect.
4. To report reactions to medication or problem with products.
5. To notify people of recalls of products they may be using.
6. To notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition
7. To notify the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence. We will make this disclosure if you agree or when required by law.

Health Oversight Activities: We may disclose your health information to a health oversight agency for audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure necessary for the government to monitor the health care system and government programs. All or a portion of your health information may also be released to the Kentucky Health Information Exchange (KHIE), Kentucky Cancer Registry, Immunization Registry, and your school if applicable. An individual has a right to adequate notice of the uses and disclosures of health information that may be made by the cover entity (45 C.F.R. 164.520 (a) (1)).

Research: Upon patient authorization, we may use and disclose your health information for medical research purposes.

National Security, Intelligence Activities, and Protective Services: We may release your health information to authorized federal officials:

1. For intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law and
2. To enable them to provide protection to the members of the U.S. government or foreign heads of state, or to conduct special investigations.

Organ and Tissue Donation: If you are an organ donor, we may release medical information to organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye, or tissue transplantation or to an organ donation bank to facilitate organ or tissue donation and transplantation.

Coroners, Medical Examiners, and Funeral Directors: We may release your health information to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or to determine the cause of death. We may also release your health information to a funeral director, as necessary, to carry out his/her duty.

Your Rights Regarding Health Information About You

Your rights regarding the health information we maintains about you are as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR THE USE OF EMAIL AND TEXT MESSAGING COMMUNICATIONS

I, the undersigned, hereby request and authorize Clover Fork Clinic and its healthcare providers ("Medical Provider") to use email and text messaging ("Electronic Communications") to communicate with me. I understand that such Electronic Communications may include Protected Health Information and expose my information to various risks, but not limited to, the following:

- E-mails and text messages sent and received are using a network/platform that is not secure.;
- E-mail and text messages can be intercepted, viewed, changed, forwarded, or used without authorization or detection.;
- E-mail or text message senders can easily misaddress their message.;
- E-mail information or text messages can be sent on to other people, stored on a computer, or printed out on paper for storage.;
- E-mail or text information may be kept on computers or electronic devices such as mobile phones even after the sender or recipient believes they deleted his or her copy.;
- Employers and on-line services have a right to archive (store) and look at e-mails/text messages transmitted through their systems. Some, but not all, employers store e-mail/text messages indefinitely.;
- E-mail or text messages can be used to introduce viruses into computer systems, used as evidence in court, could be viewed by others in possession of the mobile device.
- E-mails and text messages can be made part of the patient's medical record.;
- Medical Practice cannot guarantee that any particular e-mail or text message will be read and responded to within any particular time. The usual period of time is less than one business day, but it may take up to a week or longer if the person to whom the e-mail/text message is sent is away or if the e-mail system/mobile network is not working. Thus, e-mail and text messaging should not be used for medical emergencies or other matters that have to be handled quickly.;
- If the patient has not received a response within a reasonable time period, it is the patient's responsibility to call Medical Provider in order to determine whether the intended recipient received the e-mail and when the recipient will respond.;
- The patient, parent, or guardian should not use e-mail or text message to discuss any subjects that the patient, parent, or guardian feels should be kept confidential, such as sensitive medical information regarding sexually transmitted diseases, AIDS/HIV, mental health, developmental disability, or substance abuse.;
- Where applicable, there may be a physician charge for the time necessary to respond to the Electronic Communication.;
- The patient, parent, or guardian is responsible for protecting his/her password or other means of access to e-mail or text messaging. The health care provider or Medical Practice is not liable for information that is read by other people.;
- It is the responsibility of the patient/guardian to inform the health care provider/Medical Practice of changes in e-mail or text messaging addresses.;
- To help the health care provider and practice to ensure that they are communicating about the right person, put the patient's full name and date of birth in the body of the first e-mail message to the physician and/or practice and not in the subject line.
- The healthcare provider, in his or her own discretion, may determine that a telephone call or office visit is more appropriate for communication with the patient.

- If the healthcare provider determines that an office visit is necessary or if the patient wants an office visit, it is the patient's responsibility to call to schedule an appointment.
- Standard text messaging rates may apply.
- It is the patient's responsibility to protect the mobile device from being used or viewed by others.
- Consent to Electronic Communications may be withdrawn only by email or written communication to the healthcare provider or Medical Practice.

I understand that Medical Provider cannot guarantee the security and privacy of email and text message communications and I agree not to hold Medical Provider liable for improper use and/or disclosure of my protected health information transmitted through email or text messaging.

I have read and agree to the Medical Practice Terms and Conditions for the Use of Email and Text Messaging (and other rules that may be added and provided to me from time to time).

I agree to keep Medical Practice informed of my most-current mobile number at all times or if the number is no longer in my possession.

I acknowledge that I have read and understand the information contained in this document. I understand the risks associated with email and text communications and consent to the use of email and/or text messaging. I have also read and understand the Terms and Conditions of Use for Email and Text Messaging Communications. I agree to comply with such Terms and Conditions and any other instructions the Medical Practice may impose regarding email and text message communications.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HIV & AIDS

WHAT IS AIDS?

AIDS is the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome – a serious illness that makes the body unable to fight infection. A person with AIDS is susceptible to certain infections and cancers. When a person with AIDS cannot fight off infections, this person becomes ill. These infections can eventually kill a person with AIDS.

WHAT CAUSES AIDS?

The human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) causes AIDS. Early diagnosis of HIV infection is important! If you have been told that you have HIV, you should get prompt medical treatment. In many cases, early treatment can enhance a person's ability to remain healthy as long as possible. Your doctor will help you determine the best treatment for you. Free or reduced cost anonymous and confidential testing with counseling is available at most local health departments in Kentucky. After being infected with HIV, it takes between two weeks to six months before the test can detect antibodies to the virus.

HOW IS THE HIV VIRUS SPREAD?

- ✘ Sexual contact (oral, anal, or vaginal intercourse) with an infected person when blood, pre-ejaculation fluid, semen or cervical/vaginal secretions are exchanged.
- ✘ Sharing syringes, needles, cotton, cookers and other drug injecting equipment with someone who is infected.
- ✘ Receiving contaminated blood or blood products (very unlikely now because blood used in transfusions has been tested for HIV antibodies since March 1985).
- ✘ An infected mother passing HIV to her unborn child before or during childbirth, and through breast feeding.
- ✘ Receipt of transplant, tissue/organs, or artificial insemination from an infected donor.
- ✘ Needle stick or other sharps injury in a health care setting involving an infected person. Infections can sometimes be prevented by taking post-exposure prophylaxis anti-retroviral drugs. Strict adherence to universal precautions is the best way to prevent exposures.

YOU CANNOT GET HIV THROUGH CASUAL CONTACT SUCH AS:

- ✘ Sharing food, utensils, or plates
- ✘ Touching someone who is infected with HIV
- ✘ Hugging or shaking hands
- ✘ Donating blood or plasma (this has NEVER been a risk for contracting HIV)
- ✘ Using public rest rooms
- ✘ Being bitten by mosquitoes or other insects
- ✘ Using tanning beds (always clean before and after use)

HOW CAN I PREVENT HIV/AIDS?

- ✘ Do not share needles or other drug paraphernalia.
- ✘ Do not have sexual intercourse except with a monogamous partner whom you know is not infected and who is not sharing needles. If you choose to have sex with anyone else, use latex condoms (rubbers), female condoms or dental dams, and water based lubricants every time you have sex.
- ✘ Educate yourself and others about HIV infection and AIDS.

WOMEN AND HIV/AIDS

For females with HIV/AIDS in Kentucky, heterosexual exposure and injection drug use are the most common modes of transmission of HIV. HIV can be spread through body fluids (i.e., blood, semen, vaginal secretions, and breast milk).

All pregnant women should have blood tests to check for HIV infection.

- ✘ Mothers can pass HIV infection to their babies during pregnancy, labor and delivery, and by the child ingesting infected breast milk.
- ✘ Without treatment, about 25% (1 out of 4) of the babies born to HIV infected women will get HIV.
- ✘ Medical treatment for the HIV infected woman during pregnancy, labor, and delivery can reduce the chance of the baby getting HIV from its mother to less than 2% (less than 2 out of 100).
- ✘ An HIV infected mother should not breastfeed her newborn baby.

IS TREATMENT AVAILABLE IF I ALREADY HAVE HIV/AIDS?

After being infected with HIV, it takes between two weeks to six months before the test can detect the HIV virus. Early diagnosis of HIV infection is important! Free anonymous and confidential testing and counseling is available at every Health Department in Kentucky. Testing requires drawing a small tube of blood from a vein in your arm. If you have HIV, you should get prompt medical treatment. In many cases, early treatment can enhance a person's ability to remain healthy as long as possible. Your doctor will help you determine the best treatment.

GETTING TESTED FOR HIV:

If you have never been tested for HIV, you should be tested at least once. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends being tested at least once a year if you do things that can transmit HIV. These include:

- ✘ Injecting drugs or steroids with used injection equipment
- ✘ Having sex with someone who has HIV or any sexually transmitted disease (STD)
- ✘ Having more than one sex partner since your last HIV test
- ✘ Having a sex partner who has had other sex partners since your last HIV test
- ✘ Having sex for money or drugs (prostitution- male or female)
- ✘ Having unprotected sex or sex with someone who has had unprotected sex
- ✘ Having sex with injecting drug user(s)
- ✘ Having had a blood transfusion between 1978 and 1985
- ✘ Pregnant women or women desiring to become pregnant

WHAT IS UNSAFE SEX?

- ✘ Vaginal, anal, or oral sex without using a condom or dental dam

Remember: You can't tell whether or not someone has HIV just by looking at them!

- ✘ Sharing sex toys
- ✘ Contact with HIV infected blood, semen, or vaginal fluid

WHAT IS "SAFER" SEX?

- ✘ Abstinence (not having sex of any kind)
- ✘ Sex only with a person who does not have HIV, does not practice unsafe sex, or inject drugs
- ✘ Using either a male or female condom or dental dam (for oral sex)

How to use a latex condom:

1. Use a new latex condom every time you have sex.
2. The condom should be rolled onto the erect (hard) penis, pinching ½ inch at the tip of the condom to hold the ejaculation (semen) fluid. Air bubbles should be smoothed out.
3. Use plenty of WATER-BASED lubricants such as K-Y Jelly, including a drop or two inside the condom, before and during intercourse. DO NOT USE oil-based lubricants such as petroleum jelly, mineral oil, vegetable oil, Crisco, or cold cream.
4. After ejaculating, withdraw the penis holding the condom at the base so it will not slip off.
5. Throw away the used condom into a garbage can and wash hands.
